On the Faculty for Hotel Management and Tourism in Vrnjačka Banja, within the TEMPUS project "Modernization and Harmonization of Tourism study programmes in Serbia" 544543-TEMPUS-1-2013-1-RS-TEMPUS-JPCR, there was organized a guest lecture on the theme "Sustainable development and food safety". The lecture was held by Miodrag Marković, MSc, veterinarian specialist in Veterinary specialist institute in Kraljevo. The lecture was held on 07.03.2016. year. Students of all the years attended the lecture, a total of 62, of which 22 males and 40 females.

Miodrag Rajkovic started the lecture by focusing on the history of the tourism development in order to present different characteristics of nutrition through time and across different regions of the world. As society evolved through history, there was a need to introduce standardization in the use of food in order to protect users (guests, tourists). In this way National laws on food safety, as well as many other regulations and procedures were created and adopted.

Using local food as a tourist motive for tourism development, especially rural tourism, has long practical application in the world and in our country. Through practical and illustrative examples students were shown all the ways food is used as a motive for tourist travel, both in the world and in our country. Emphasis is placed on the need to protect the geographical origin of the product and its use, all in order to protect it from unfair competition. Miodrag Rajkovic presented the list of geographical origin marks of products registered in the Intellectual Property Office, when it comes to products of animal origin. In addition to theese products, the participants were presented a number of events held in our country, that has food products typical for that area as a main tourist motive.
